Allied Alliance Plan Includes W. Germany

Way Clear For Reich To Enter NATO

LONDON (AP)—Nine Western allies agreed Thursday night on an historic program to enlist a new West German army in a defense alliance against communism.

The free world foreign ministers also appeared headed toward a general settlement designed to wipe out the ancient fears and rivalries that have rent Europe for centuries.

The program emerged as the climax of a series of compromises between three-invasion France and her partners. As hammered out at the nine-power conference here, it would:

1. End the Allied occupation of West Germany by about the end of this year.
2. Allow the West Germans to rearm under a strict international watch to be carried out by a seven-nation European Armaments Authority.
3. Bring West Germany simultaneously into an enlarged Brussels alliance and into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member.

Italy, a wartime enemy too, will also join the Brussels group, formed by five nations in 1948.

Key clue to the progress of the complicated negotiations between old enemies who are becoming new friends was given in a communiqué.

"Agreement was reached in principle on the modification required in the Brussels Treaty for the adherence of Italy and the Federal Republic of Germany."

That clause, according to a British Foreign Office spokesman, means the conference is "over the hump."

It means that, aside from some hard technical work by experts in the coming month, the way is clear for the Germans to join NATO.

Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — the founding members of the 50-year Brussels alliance — swiftly agreed on a supplement to their treaty that will formally invite West Germany and Italy to join.

Next comes the problem of restoring West Germany's sovereignty.

As the communiqué outlined the situation:

"The foreign ministers of France, the German Federal Republic, the United Kingdom and the United States will meet tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. to consider a report of the working group on the restoration of German sovereignty."

Thursday's program would set up the European Armaments Authority, comprising the seven Brussels Treaty members, to supervise the output of weapons produced by all the countries except Britain.

But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear that the United States intends to keep the right to control the allocation of the military aid it gives to members of the new European alliance.

ROK CUTS OFF CREDIT IN DISPUTE OVER EXCHANGE RATE

SEOUL (Friday) (AP)—The U.S. Far East command said Friday the South Korean government has cut off all credit to U.S. forces in a dispute over the dollar-won exchange rate.

The exchange rate is one of the major points in a general dispute over United States military and economic aid now being discussed here by U.S. and Republic of Korea officials.

"As a consequence," a statement by the command said, "the United States military commands in Korea find themselves without sufficient funds to pay their Korean employees and contractors."

The dispute is over American insistence and ROK refusal on revising upward the amount of Korean money a dollar can buy.

21ST POLIO DEATH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Board of Health Thursday announced the 21st polio death in the city this year.

The board also reported seven new polio cases in the city. This brings the year's total to 510. Last year at this time there were 281 known cases, including seven deaths.

McCarthy To Fight Watkin's Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) served formal notice Thursday he will resist at length a special investigating committee's report urging the Senate to censure him on misconduct charges.

Through his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy submitted to the committee a bill of exceptions announcing he will defend himself fully, and seek to show "myriad precedents . . . countless precedents" to prove the committee was wrong in recommending censure.

The Senate meets in extraordinary session Nov. 8 to act on the charges and hear McCarthy's defense.

Whether McCarthy will demand the right to call witnesses before the Senate remained undisclosed.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of a special committee of three Republicans and three Democrats that recommended censure action after a public hearing of charges against McCarthy, was not immediately available for comment.

The bill noted that Watkins, in presiding at nine days of public hearings, had barred the citing of other senators' conduct as precedent for McCarthy's actions.

The bill prepared by Williams contended that the committee in accusing McCarthy of contempt, was asking the 83rd Congress to censure him for events which occurred in the 82nd Congress.

"Never in the history of Congress has a senator been censured for conduct which took place in a prior Congress," Williams wrote.

"There are myriad precedents in both the Senate and the House to the effect that there can be no censure for conduct which took place in a previous Congress."

The document said that Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind-Ore), who initiated the censure charges, sat silent when McCarthy was seated as a member of this Congress on Jan. 3, 1953, after his 1952 re-election.

"Sen. McCarthy had stated publicly before he was presented for seating," Williams wrote, "that any members of the Gillette (elections) subcommittee who felt that he had been guilty of any misconduct had a duty to call such facts to the attention of the Senate on Jan. 3, 1953, and ask that McCarthy step aside."

Since no one challenged McCarthy, the document said, "it can only be inferred" that the subcommittee members "did not think that Sen. McCarthy had engaged in misconduct of any kind."

Of the charge that McCarthy "abused" Zwickler, the bill said McCarthy wants every senator to read the exchanges between himself and the general at a stormy hearing on Feb. 18, and Zwickler's testimony in the censure hearings, and decide whether he was unjustifiably abusive.

CORN HARVEST DAYS OPEN IN BLOOMINGTON

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Exploding aerial bombs and an hour-long parade Thursday opened the Corn Harvest Days, an annual festival of fun and corn picking.

A crowd estimated by officials at 15,000 lined Bloomington's main streets to watch the farm machines and marching bands.

More than 50,000 visitors are expected to be on hand for the two and a half day program. It will be climaxed Saturday when 20 of Illinois' best corn pickers compete for the state's championship.

Commander Gives Warning As Nautilus Joins Naval Fleet

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The atomic powered submarine Nautilus officially became a part of the United States Navy Thursday and the answer, a Navy admiral said, to Russia's mounting sea power.

The submarine was turned over to the Navy at commissioning ceremonies by its builders, the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

John Ray Hopkins, corporation president, called it "man's first successful attempt to utilize for propulsion the complex mysteries of nuclear fission."

Adm. Jerauld Wright, Atlantic Fleet commander-in-chief, sounded a sober warning that Russia is "feverishly constructing a Navy" to challenge the United States for air and sea supremacy which, he said, "we must maintain if we are to remain a free nation."

Within the past ten years, said Wright, Russia has risen from seventh place to second among the world's naval powers with a sea force which includes 350 to 400 submarines.

In a speech prepared for the ceremonies, Wright described the Nautilus as "a killer submarine with a primary task of whittling down the Soviet submarine force."

In delivering the speech, however, he omitted that portion of it.

Wright said that though the Nautilus is the first of its kind, it already is "approaching obsolescence."

Pope Reiterates Opposition To 'ABC War'

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius, speaking in a strong, firm voice that indicated steady improvement in his health, Thursday reiterated his opposition to what he called "ABC war"—atomic, bacteriological and chemical.

The pontiff addressed 1,000 doctors gathered for a World Medical Assn. conference. The speech was the longest he has given recently.

He canceled speeches at two recent audiences because of fatigue, and told an Associated Press reporter two weeks ago he had not fully recovered from a gastric disorder that kept him in his apartment for several weeks last winter.

"One should not, even in principle, pose the question of the legality of ABC war except in a case where it is judged indispensable to defense against the most extreme, grave and evident injustice," he said Thursday. Even then it is necessary to employ every means to avoid such war.

Find Cpl. Batchelor Guilty Of Aiding Enemy While POW

BULLETIN

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Cpl. Claude Batchelor Thursday night was sentenced to life in prison.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An Army court-martial Thursday night convicted Cpl. Claude Batchelor on five of six counts of aiding the enemy while he was a prisoner of war in Korea.

The verdict was announced and the members of the court-martial board retired immediately to fix a sentence.

The verdict was returned after 2 hours and 14 minutes of deliberation by the board.

Batchelor, his mother and 125 spectators waited quietly as the board deliberated behind closed doors.

Batchelor, 22, showed no emotion as the final instructions were given by the board by the law officer or judge of the court-martial.

He has been on trial here at 4th Army Headquarters for a month. His attorneys claim he is innocent of collaborating with the enemy by reason of insanity. Batchelor flatly denied ever informing on fellow POWs.

Batchelor was one of 23 American POWs who chose at first to stay with their Communist captors. He and Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Cracker's Neck, Va., later changed their minds and were repatriated.

Dickenson was convicted and sentenced to 10 years on similar charges. He was a prosecution rebuttal witness Thursday.

Steel Companies Merger Objected To By Brownell

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government ruled against a proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. Thursday, but the two companies talked of trying to find some way to merge anyway.

Atty. Gen. Brownell announced that the antitrust division of the Justice Department had disapproved the merger on the grounds that it would violate antitrust laws.

Brownell commented that there is "a substantial amount of competition" between the two big corporations now.

But in New York, Eugene Grace, chairman of Bethlehem, disagreed. "Competition between them is not substantial anywhere," Grace said, "and wherever there is any at all, the competition of other large steel companies is preponderant."

"The merger would bring a great new competitive force into the Midwest market."

"We are actively exploring what further action may properly be taken to make the merger possible," Aast. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes, head of the antitrust division, said recently the department was concerned at the trend toward merger of large companies. He advised consultation first with his division but noted that it acts only in an advisory way at that stage and "anyone can proceed at his own risk."

Atomic Battery Uses Heat From Radioactivity

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An atomic battery which uses heat from radioactivity to produce electrical energy has been developed by scientists at the Atomic Energy Commission's Mound Laboratory at J. Burdage, director, announced Thursday.

The battery, developed by John Burden and Kenneth C. Jordan, is approximately 1 1/2 inches high and 1 1/4 inches long. It produces electrical energy comparable to ordinary dry cell batteries.

The core of the battery is a small capsule containing about 150 curies (roughly 1-1000th of an ounce) of the radioactive element polonium. It converts the heat from radioactive decay into electricity.

Dr. Burdage said the small, light battery is capable of very long service, the operating life being dependent only on the radioactive material used.

He said large scale manufacture of atomic batteries is not economical at present.

Differs With Weeks On Policy; Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said publicly Thursday that he and Secretary of Commerce Weeks have been having differences over policy.

Both Cabinet members, however, declared they are still on President Eisenhower's team. Mitchell added: "I can take care of myself."

Mitchell, in acknowledging at a news conference that he and Weeks have differed over policy on labor relations and other matters, said his department is winning most of the arguments.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver, Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said there would be no White House comment on Mitchell's views.

Weeks issued a statement denying any split with Mitchell. He said the labor secretary is "a conscientious public official and he's doing a fine job."

"Our initial views on some subjects do not always coincide," Weeks added. "But we are both members of the President's team and we are both working together to advance the President's program for all the people of the United States."

Weeks is a Massachusetts manufacturer. Mitchell's pre-government work was in handling labor relations for New York City firms.

Differences between the two Cabinet members have been reported smoldering behind the scenes for some time but neither side ever before has admitted it publicly.

"I would be disturbed," Mitchell said, "if Commerce Department opinion on labor relations matters gained ascendancy . . . as far as I am concerned, I am a member of the team, and I can take care of myself."

Mitchell said while "I think Mr. Weeks has the right to express his opinions," the important thing is not that the two may disagree but which one's views prevail and become administration policy.

Sales Restriction On Gamma Globulin Ends Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Defense Mobilization announced Thursday that unrestricted sale of gamma globulin by manufacturers will begin Friday and ODM's rationing of the anti-polio drug will end Dec. 31.

ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming said his agency will keep its commitments to distribute gamma globulin to state health departments during the rest of this year. Beyond that, he said, "all foreseeable demands can be met."

Manufacturers of the drug will be free to sell it to pharmacists henceforth. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the Red Cross have been buying the entire output for ODM's system of voluntary rationing, but the foundation let its purchase contract expire Thursday.

Previously, concern had been expressed in some quarters that the unrestricted sale of gamma globulin might interfere with the mass tests of the newly developed Salk polio vaccine on school children in a number of areas.

The purpose of both substances is the same—protection against polio.

GAS WAR IN EAST ST. LOUIS

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Gasoline stations slashed prices in East St. Louis Thursday as the gasoline price war being waged in St. Louis and St. Louis County continued to spread.

Regular gasoline was around 19.9 to 20.9 cents a gallon, a 6-cent decrease, with ethyl down to 23.6, a 7-cent drop.

Ike Okays Probe To Detect Misconduct Of U.S. Workers

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's headquarters said Thursday night he has approved a new investigation program aimed at detecting and preventing misconduct and improprieties on the part of federal employees with relation to their jobs.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, told a news conference the program was ordered into effect last June 14 by Budget Director Rowland Hughes to deal with situations "short of criminal acts."

Snyder added that the program also does not apply in any way to security risks.

He said the program was discussed before it went into effect by Eisenhower and his Cabinet and that the President "certainly has approved the general objectives of the program."

The main objective, Snyder said, at a news conference, is to provide for better administration in the executive branch of the government.

Claims Moscow Policy 'Peaceful Co-Existence'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky Thursday proposed the elimination of all atomic and hydrogen weapons by stages and the eventual use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only.

Vishinsky put before the U.N. Assembly at the end of a speech lasting 1 hour and 41 minutes the most complicated and detailed resolution on disarmament so far offered by Moscow in the nine-year history of the U.N.

He also told the U.N. that Moscow bases its foreign policy squarely on a policy of peaceful co-existence between the Communist and capitalist states. He hailed the defeat of the European Defense Community plans by the French Parliament, and said that attempts are being made by warlike circles to unleash a new war in Korea.

In unveiling Moscow's new look on disarmament, Vishinsky passed over with slight comment President Eisenhower's proposals for the peaceful uses of atomic energy. He said that Secretary Dulles did not present concrete proposals to the Assembly last week and the Russians would wait until they see something on paper in the Assembly before giving their views.

Vishinsky also proposed in his resolution that the Disarmament Commission study and clarify the British-French proposals of last June 11 which provide that U.N. members agree they should not use nuclear weapons except as a defense against aggression.

Vishinsky's adoption of the British-French proposals as a base for his resolution was a startling change of pace. Western delegates said it would be closely studied.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., United States chief delegate who listened to Vishinsky, said that the Vishinsky resolution will receive careful and earnest consideration by the U.S. government.

Vishinsky's resolution called for reduction by states within six months or one year of their armaments, armed forces and appropriations for military purposes by 50 per cent of agreed norms. He did not say what the norms should be. This reduction is to be effective as from the level of Dec. 31, 1953.

A British tug then brought the lad in the iron lung to England, where he was taken to the Southampton Chest Hospital here in this port city. Hospital attendants said David's condition still was "highly critical" Thursday night.

Swimmers Descend 197 Feet To Floor Of Lake Michigan

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—A pair of Wisconsin swimmers, wearing only aqualungs and rubber suits, have descended 197 feet to the floor of Lake Michigan eight miles offshore from Kenosha.

Fred Roberts, 22, Milwaukee, and Charles Stanley, 22, Kenosha, made the dive Wednesday from two small craft anchored in a heavy sea. The dive took an hour.

As proof of their dive the men returned to the surface with small discs which had previously been attached to a line six feet above the anchor resting on the lake bottom.

Roberts and Stanley said a Chicago man claims the present Midwest free descent record of 150 feet using an aqualung.

Roberts is president and Stanley is vice president of the Midwest Amphibian Club of Milwaukee.

Editorial Comment

E COMIC-BOOK STORY

The American comic-book business seems to have learned a lesson in the power of public opinion.

A newly created trade group which includes most of the industry has taken steps toward banning offensive comic books.

Under a code of ethics every book will be read by censors. All "terror" and "horror" books will be refused approval. Books which pass inspection will be marked with a seal so that parents can know at a glance which books are safe to buy.

With all the talk about this development, it deserves to be put in perspective.

In the first place it should be noted that all but a few comic-book publishers are innocent bystanders in the situation. They have never published anything but wholesome material. They have deplored the excesses of offending publishers. They should not be tarred by the brush of a few bad apples.

Then, too, it should be pardonable if newspapers, as granddads of the comic cartoon, point out the character of their branch of the family.

Your newspaper is now doing, and has always done, a good clean job of entertaining with comics and policing itself, all these years, with good taste and judgment.

There are many safeguards. The newspaper comics are produced by organizations with a sense of responsibility and are reviewed, finally, right in each community by the newspaper editors themselves who are the ones to decide what to print and what not to print.

Smacking down a few merchants of viciousness in the comic-book field still leaves unresolved one of the major tasks facing a democracy built with the keystones of free speech and a free press. There are those at one extreme who feel you cannot have "a little censorship," and those at the other extreme who are those who fear, justifiably, a contagion from poisonous words which would pollute the nation with a soul-sick and misled citizenry.

This debate will go on and on while we, as a democracy, struggle to hammer out workable rules for our own welfare.

At least, in the area of mass reading for juveniles, it could appear that public opinion has forced a restraint on the publishers of comic books can't see what is acceptable good taste they will be made to conform.

It spotlights a basic principal which can stand repeating: that the right kind of censorship is that of public opinion.

If the people find something offensive it is their right and duty to withdraw support from it. Soon, as occurred in the comic-book case, the public's refusal is certain to bring results.

The World Today

By ED OREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Memo to a man from Mars:

Sorry we missed seeing you yesterday. Normally we'd have heard you tapping on the office door, even though your tentacles don't make as much noise as human knuckles. But the television set was going full blast, so you see. None of us wanted to miss the World Series opener.

The World Series—maybe we'd better tell you about that, since you're down here studying human behavior. The World Series is—well, call it a sort of nervous breakdown that we have at this time of year.

It's a serious ailment. It just about brings the United States to a standstill. People forget about politics, about world affairs. Nobody argues about Joe McCarthy. Joe McCarthy, we ought to explain, used to manage the New York Yankees. They took part in the World Series, too, in happier days.

Fortunately, perhaps, this temporary insanity of ours doesn't last long. It usually runs its course in a week or less. Then everybody goes back to work, except some times the manager of the losing team.

This year the contest is between the New York Giants of the National League and the Cleveland Indians of the American League. The Giants are not especially big men and the Indians are not really Indians. For that matter the Polo Grounds, where the series opened, is not noted for Polo.

The Giants are managed by Leo Durocher, Laraine Day, Tallulah Bankhead and a New York restaurant keeper named Toots Shor. The Indians are managed by Al Lopez and about half the population of Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

Ball players play ball because they love the sport, though sometimes for the sake of their families they accept token salaries. Some of these token salaries rank right along with the take-home pay of the president of the United States.

Besides riches, ball players aspire to two things: getting elected to the baseball hall of fame, and marrying Marilyn Monroe.

Baseball is the great American game, but during the season millions of Americans can take it or leave it alone. Come series time, though, everybody's a fan—and an expert. People who normally would as soon kiss their mother-in-law as shell out $2 for a ticket are packed right in there around the TV screen screaming.

Why? You tell us, man from Mars. We're a warm-hearted, clever, childlike people. But we never claimed that we made sense.

NEW YORK (AP)—Pickup items from a pavement Plato:

It is not at all unusual for people to have an allergy to money, although generally it's the other way around—money seems to be allergic to us.

What most of us seem allergic to is the fact we often get less money for a job than we feel we should.

Some years ago I knew a young woman who actually suffered physical distress from handling money. Every time she touched cash, her hands broke out in a rash. Ironically, she worked as a cashier. The only way she could keep the post was to wear white cotton gloves.

Life was quite a problem for her until she met and married a well-to-do businessman. He gave her a big checking account, and that cured her hand rash almost overnight.

Our odd notions about foreigners are equalled only by their odd notions about us.

An Italian lady, who came to Long Island to live after marrying a former American army officer, recently returned to her homeland for a visit. She found the Italian children in her village wearing cowboy suits, and even some of the old folks wanted to know how she guarded herself against Indian ambushes in the United States.

Which came first—the chicken or the egg?

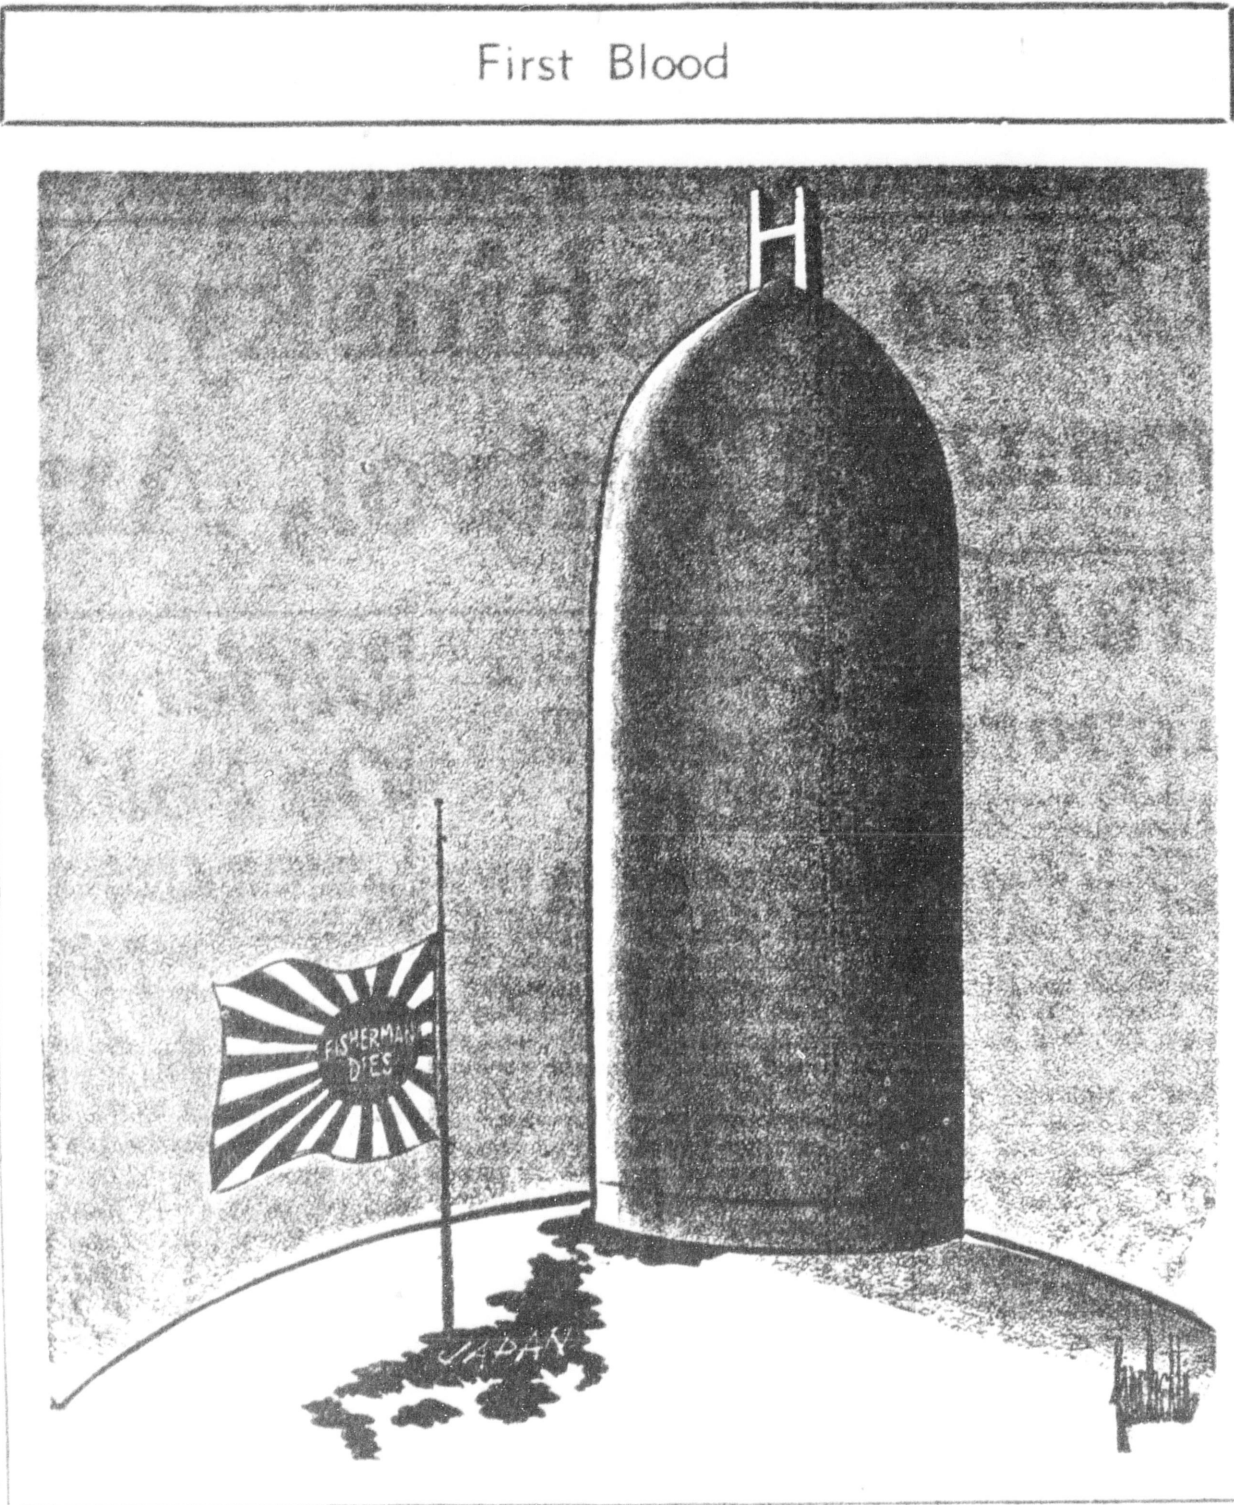

Recently I puzzled the small daughter of a lady reader of this department, who forwarded her child's solution.

"The chicken must have come first, mama," reasoned the child. "I can see how God could make a chicken—but I can't imagine him laying an egg."

Red Turns White—Not Interested—New School—Good Reason—Soviet Religion—He's Ready

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Army Provost Marshal Gen. William Maglin was in Europe recently on an inspection tour and happened to attend a reception in Vienna. Present was the Russian provost marshal of the district and they began talking through an interpreter.

They were discussing technical police matters when General Maglin suggested that the Russian officer might want to attend a meeting of the international association of chiefs of police which was going to be held in the U. S.

"What kind of a trick is this meeting, anyway?" the Russian asked suspiciously.

Maglin explained that it was no trick, that the association was a very old and respected organization. The Red provost marshal became very interested.

"Do you think I could really attend?" he asked.

"Of course, if you can make it," Maglin assured him.

At that the interpreter whispered something in the Red officer's ear which made him turn white. Without saving a word he turned on his heel and left the reception.

THERE HAS BEEN a great deal of criticism because the Russian news agency, Tass, has been allowed to have reporters travel around Washington freely and get in on anything available to U. S. newsmen.

However, at the recent press conference held by Atomic Energy Commission head, Lewis L. Strauss, which permitted newsmen in the building in a large group for the first time in months, no Tass man bothered to show up.

IN THE OUTER OFFICE of the Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot there hangs on the wall an elaborate three-dimensional plan of the new Air Force Academy. It shows all of the buildings and the landing field which were originally planned for the new Air Force school.

The only trouble with that plan is that it must be completely revised for the mountainous terrain of the Denver, Colo., site. The architect who did the job assumed that the location would be flat.

One of the Air Force's problems in connection with the new school is getting enough young men of high caliber to apply for admission in the first class which will begin in temporary quarters next fall.

THE FOLLOWING letter was received by the U. S. Information Service library in Rangoon from 11-year-old Teddy Thaing Chin explaining how he happened to lose one of the library's books:

"On my way home from the library Communist insurgents appeared. They overturned my bag and examined carefully. When they found that book, some 'Free Worlds' and my membership card, they barked at me saying that I was a little handle boy of Americans."

"Then a man hit me with his rifle pipe and shouted. They searched all over my body and at last taking my bag, took gold ring, gold shirt button and fountain pen, they went away. When I reached town I got typhoid. That is why I could not report to you early."

"I hope that you will pardon me and will not kick me out of your library."

He was not kicked out.

Hickory Salt Glamorizes Your Broiled Chicken

SPICY BROILED CHICKEN with hickory flavor can be cooked indoors as well as out

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Broiled chicken can have the smoky outdoor flavor people like even though cooked in the kitchen stove. We learned how to do this in Philadelphia the other day, talking with men learned in seasonings at the 100-year-old establishment of John Wagner & Sons.

Experts in fine peppers, herbs, spices, seeds and seasonings from faraway lands, these dignified men regard their use in cooking almost with reverence.

A very simple recipe, with roots in the Far East from which they imported their spices and teas, is a variation on the traditional broiling process. It offers the pungent, aromatic taste and flavor of a charcoal grill, with none of the hazards of wind, weather and smoke. In fact, it's outdoor cooking that is a lot easier indoors.

Into ½ cup of melted butter or margarine, dissolve 2 tablespoons of sugar. Coat the broiler well, and then season with hickory salt for the first application of heat. Broil slowly, alternating applications of ginger and sugared butter or margarine. For final minutes of broiling, apply hickory salt again and ground pepper to create smoky outdoor taste which blends beautifully with the Oriental flavor of the sugared ginger.

We have an oven-broiled chicken recipe in our house, inherited from a grandmother who lived in Rochester, N.Y.

Sprinkle each piece of chicken thoroughly with salt, pepper and paprika. Place a piece of butter or margarine in bottom of roasting pan. Place chicken in pan, skin side up. Slice a small onion and spread over chicken. Cook in very slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Turn chicken and continue to cook. After 20 minutes turn chicken again and cook for an hour and a half in all.

Make stock of onion and celery and add a little Worcestershire sauce. Baste chicken with this flavored stock every 20 minutes. Serve on hot platter with pan butter gravy poured over it. Delicious!

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Melon cup, oven-broiled chicken, stuffed baked potatoes, succotash (corn and lima beans), rolls, butter or margarine, sliced tomatoes with chopped green peppers, lemon meringue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

We parents often have a hard time understanding our children and I suspect that children do a better job in understanding us. Perhaps that is the reason so much more is written for grown-ups about how to get along with their children than for children about how to get along with their parents!

One period of youth, namely that between nursery age and adolescence, has been called the forgotten years of childhood. It is easier perhaps for parents to discipline or run their children at these ages than it is later on but the thoughts and emotions from approximately 6 to 12 remain difficult for most adults.

The attractive early years, when the words of parents were accepted by their youngsters without question, have passed, but the growth-up approach to life and its problems have certainly yet not been reached.

One Of The difficulties in dealing with youngsters of these ages is that it is so hard for the parents to think back to these years themselves and remember how they felt and acted at the same age. True, most of us can remember something if we try but the effort is seldom made.

Can you remember a party given when you were not invited or at which you had a very bad time? Do you recall the feelings of triumph or tragedy which accompanied success socially, in the classroom, or on the athletic field? If you can do these things you will have made a close approach to the feeling of your children and to their trials, failure and success.

Friends of the same age are every bit as important to the 8 year old as they are later on. In fact, in many ways, they are more important because there are fewer of them and one has not learned at that age that human contacts with others come and go with life.

The rules and regulations of parents and teachers are often particularly hard to understand. At the age of 6, death and injury seem entirely unreal and as something that could not possibly happen to oneself. Hence the warning to be careful crossing the street and similar instructions from grownups seem merely adding to the confining and senseless rule which are always interfering with fun.

In Short, the youngster between 6 and 12—and in older and younger years, too—is a real person with normal reactions so far as their own experiences are concerned. The ones who do not have normal reactions in the eyes of the children are the grownups. The problem is to understand them.

I got a shock this morning when I looked at the standings. We (New York Yankees) could have been only 4½ games out. Instead we are 8½ out. That frightens me.

Tobacco Dealers Convicted In Fake Stamp Racket
CHICAGO (AP)—Two tobacco dealers were convicted Wednesday of conspiracy to sell cigarettes bearing fake Illinois tax stamps.
They are Sam Garafolo, 49, former owner of the Villa Park Tobacco Co., and Chris Chiaramonte, 28, owner of the Christy Tobacco Co.
Both were arrested in November 1951 when the state cracked down on a counterfeit stamp racket believed to have cheated the state of 13 million dollars in taxes.
Police said they found cigarettes with counterfeit stamps in Chiaramonte's place. He said he got them from Garafolo's firm, located in suburban Villa Park.
The Criminal Court Jury recommended prison sentences for both and, in addition, a $2,000 fine for Garafolo. Judge Leslie E. Salter set Oct. 14 for sentencing. The law provides imprisonment of one to five years.

Tractor Driver Plows Under $180
JERSEYVILLE—Tuesday was an unfortunate day for Robert Dunham of this city. Dunham went to the Nutwood District to help his father-in-law, Otto Kraushaar, with the fall plowing for wheat sowing.
Dunham, who is regularly employed by a Madison county defense industry had $180 of his last pay check in his billfold. The purse worked out of his hip pocket with the jolting and jarring of riding on the tractor seat and fell into the furrow where it was covered when the plow made its next trip around. Dunham discovered his loss when he returned to his home in Jerseyville that evening.
Along with the $180 in bills Dunham lost his driver's license, his title to his car and a number of other important papers which were carried in the billfold. Application for a duplicate of the lost driver's license was made here Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Dunham for her husband.

'Christmas' Gifts From Over Nation Cheer Doomed Tot
BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP)—"Merry Christmas, Linda," laughed the merry fellow in the bright red suit "Merry Christmas!"
Christmas came early for young Linda Cargill because doctors don't expect the 7-year-old girl to live until Dec. 25. She is incurably ill of leukemia, they say.
The excitement of Christmas filled the small family home Wednesday night. If there were any tears among friends and neighbors they were carefully hidden.
The room was literally filled with packages and gifts from all over the country. The festivities centered around the gaily colored Christmas tree which Linda helped decorate.
Wearing a crisp, new pink dress and with a ribbon in her blonde hair, little Linda cried with joy when Santa Claus burst into the room.
Santa handed the frail child a lovely bird cage with a live parakeet inside.
"Oh, Santa, another bird!" she said.
Toys, candy, gifts galore were pulled from Santa's bulging pack. One neighbor brought a doll for Linda's rapidly growing nursery. Another brought a cake with a doll resembling Linda on top.
"That looks like me," she beamed.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cargill have not told Linda and her two brothers, Robert, 5, and Tommy, 2, that she will die. The early Christmas was explained by telling her she might be in the hospital when the real one comes.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Prince Wan Wathayakon of Thailand has raised a problem before the United Nations which plagues the entire free world without any sign of a solution.
That is how to counter Communist infiltration, which takes many different forms according to the locale.
In Thailand, for instance, there are 50,000 Chinese, many of whom undoubtedly are agents of the Red hierarchy and some of whom probably were planted years ago. This is true throughout Southeast Asia.
Who can tell a Chinese Communist from any other Chinese emigrant?
Everybody remembers how the local Communists nearly took over France and Italy, especially the latter, right after the war. They were there, they were prepared, and conditions were just what Russia had planned when she encouraged Hitler to start World War II by promising not to interfere.

Asks $10,000 For Wreck Injuries
Damages of $10,000 for personal injuries in an automobile collision were asked by Ina Tauchas, a minor, by her father and next friend, Joseph Tauchas, in a suit filed Thursday in circuit court against Norbert J. Schindler. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Harry G. Story.

The suit sets forth that the plaintiff was injured in a collision of two cars Oct. 4, 1953, near the intersection of Morton and Clay avenues.

150 Hear Quartet Sing At Church
An estimated 150 persons attended the Church of the Nazarene Wednesday evening to hear the program presented by the All American Quartet, radio and television stars, and to become acquainted with the new pastor, Rev. Next Friday evening, Oct. 8, the pastor and his family will hold open house at the newly purchased parsonage, 708 South Main street, from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock p.m. Members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend.

Charge Prisoner Had Forged Check Cashed By Friend
MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—Wilford Devens, 29, Mankato, was charged with second degree forgery Wednesday after making out a false check for $10 in his jail cell and having it cashed.
Police said Devens gave the check to a prisoner in an adjoining cell, who cashed it after the check was freed from a drunkenness charge. Devens denied the charge until the officers said they found the $100 cash proceeds hidden under a jail wash basin.
The innocent casher of the check paid $10 for his trouble by Devens, was not held. Devens had been in jail for investigation of bad check dealings.

Gladys Crawford Entertains XI Lambda Chapter

Mrs. Gladys Crawford entertained XI Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at her home on N. Clay Ave. recently.

The business meeting was in charge of the chapter president, Mrs. Ruth White. Civic projects were under discussion. Announcement of Central Illinois Area Council which will be held on October 3 at Pontiac, Ill., was made.

The program entitled "Under Forty Four Pounds" was given by Mrs. Alvah S. McCarthy. She explained that in air travel over Europe it was a great deal more convenient to keep that baggage weight, also that one is allowed extra camera and equipment, except raincoat and binoculars.

Mrs. McCarthy unpacked one bag and a train case to show how one can live for two months and yet manage foreign purchases with this baggage allowance. Her many articles from The Holy Land were a revelation as to what is being manufactured there at present.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and prizes were awarded to the following: Mrs. Leue Hutchinson, Esther Ingolia and Ruth White.

As millions of children return to school, the Ladies' Home Journal offers a full review of the problems that beset educators and parents!

"Our school problems, financial and philosophical, must be solved by informed citizens. We offer these stories and articles, not as a cross section or endorsed solution, but to stimulate those who must grapple with similar situations in their own communities."

This month, in a round-table discussion with Journal editors, six important educators, headed by A. Whitney Griswold, President of Yale, speak out frankly on questions like these which plague their profession, and endanger the future of our children.

- What caused the mounting crisis in public education?
- Do children really fail to learn to read?
- Should all children be promoted every year, regardless of progress?
- Should all high-school courses be watered down to the lowest level?

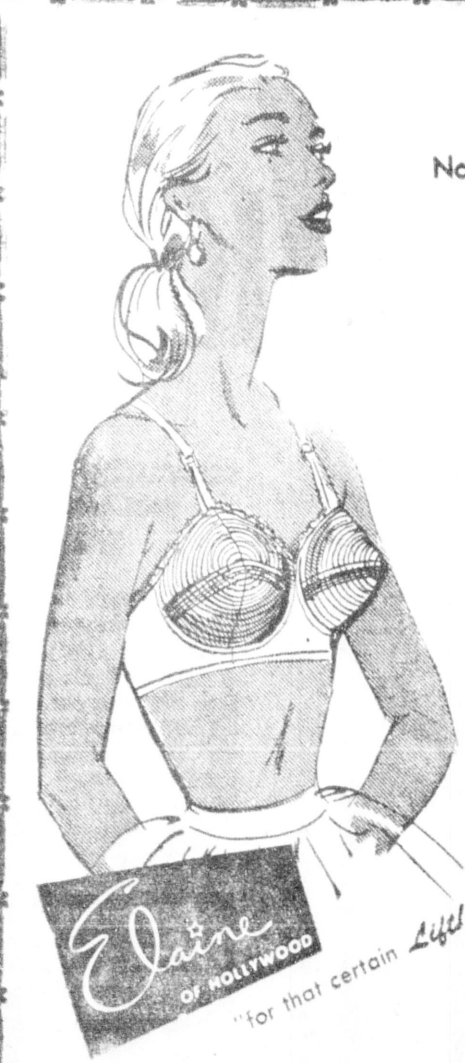

The Journal brings this challenging and controversial forum to you and millions of other American women because women have more influence on our educational system than men do—much more.

You'll want to read this entire October issue which features many articles and stories discussing problems affecting parents and educators today.

BIRTHDAY SECRET
DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Charles Francis Fleming apparently believes a man is only as old as he feels. He went around telling people he was only 96. There was a small birthday celebration and he confessed "it's quite nice being 100 you know."

PUSHING POWER

SUSPECT

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Somehow the mysterious death of Angelina Jones, sister-in-law of Jim Dunn's client, Mrs. Kit Carlson, seems to tie in with an unsolved death on the West Coast. Even the woman sheriff, Mrs. Toby Argyle, thinks Angelina's death may be "another" accident. But Jim Dunn does not think it is an accident. Someone had moved the body.

MRS. GELSTRAP whined, "I'm just a working woman. I do what I'm told. The missus said for me to come to Denver. I took the train because I don't like to get off the ground. She met me at the depot, brought me here."

"You've never been here before?"

"No."

"You're lying," Agnes said wearily. "You were up here shortly after the wedding. For heaven's sake, if you must lie, do it with a little chance of success. Around here, we know what goes on. Particularly about anyone connected with the Carlsons. The Carlsons just about support the whole community of Creek Junction. We don't cater to tourists; we cater to the Carlsons and it's a year-round job." For a moment her lips set in even grimmer lines, then assumed a twist as if she had tasted vinegar. "Now then, Mrs. Gelstrap, you paid a flying visit to this place last summer. That was when we in Creek Junction understood Peter Carlson and his new wife were going to honeymoon here. At least, in the little cabin. Peter Carlson went to considerable trouble fixing up that place."

Jim Dunn was beginning to believe the sheriff really considered the death of Angelina an accident. At least she was giving out considerable information. He had learned why the caretaker's cabin was fixed up the way it was. It was intended for a honeymoon house.

"I told the missus about this place," Mrs. Gelstrap said. She showed no trace of embarrassment at having been caught in a lie, merely retreated to another position. "She decided she wanted to go to California for the honeymoon instead. Why, there wasn't even a place fixed for me here then!"

"Might have been the general idea," Agnes suggested. "Any particular reason why you should have to be along on the honeymoon?"

"The missus depends on me," Sue Gelstrap said smugly.

"Too bad for her," Agnes snapped. "Especially if you go around lapping up all the liquor in sight."

Mrs. Gelstrap giggled. "There's still plenty if you want a little snifter, Sheriff."

Jim realized a beautiful enmity was developing between the cook and the sheriff.

FEET pounded across the porch and the living room door pushed open. Two men came in, and one of them was the doctor. He had been conditioned so he expected the doctor too to be a woman.

Sheriff Argyle wasted no time in talk. "In the basement, Doctor," she said. "I'll want to know if the injuries causing death could have been caused by the fall of the elevator."

The doctor nodded, turned around.

"I didn't hear you drive up," Agnes said.

"Should have. You know the racket my car makes." The doctor kept on going this time.

"Score one point for you, Mr. Dunn," Agnes said. "You can't hear a car drive up. Now, Suppose you go to the little cabin."

Stay there with your wife until I get around to you again."

Jim Dunn told his wife of Miss Wister's story, of the peculiar way she had acted. "I don't get it," he finished. "Honestly, she acted as if she was mad at me about something."

"Probably was," Nancy said. "You snapped at her, from what she said. Probably she'd been doing something for your benefit so naturally she's angry."

The door of the cottage pushed open without any warning knock and Agnes Argyle walked in.

"Well, Mr. Dunn. You decided yet whether or not I've sold out to the Carlsons?"

Jim was getting tired of having his thoughts explained to him. "Have you?"

Agnes looked at Nancy. Her smile softened the bitter planes of her gaunt face. "And this is your wife?"

Jim made the introduction.

After that he was ignored. The two women appeared to come to an unspoken understanding.

Jim wondered if it would make any difference if he stood on his head.

Agnes said, "Suppose you tell me about this, Mrs. Dunn."

"Nancy," she corrected.

"Yes. Tell me, Nancy, all about your contacts with Mrs. Kit. Right from the beginning."

Jim coughed. "Just a minute before we go into that."

Agnes Argyle said, "Go away. Go help the men or something. Your wife and I want to talk."

JIM went into the basement. The body was gone. The elevator had been raised another foot or so. Blood on the hard-packed dirt floor was darkening and hardening. From the living room above came the shrill sound of a ringing telephone. The floor above creaked with the passage of a heavy body.

Jim borrowed a flashlight from the deputy, returned to the elevator. He directed the light under the partially raised platform. There were marks there all right, indications of dragging. He knew now why Angelina's clothing had been so dirty covered.

Illinois Born Lady Minister Is 'Pilgrim Circuit Rider'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—Bouncing along a midwestern country road today is a strange-looking vehicle—a sort of pulpit-on-wheels.

Inside is a trim, blue-eyed farmer's daughter, who once wanted to be a foreign missionary but who switched her sights to rural America.

"That's where my work belongs," said the Rev. Leila Anderson. "They're the people I know."

Miss Anderson is the "Pilgrim Circuit Rider" for the Congregational Christian Churches, and she has traveled 20,000 miles in the last year pumping new life into isolated country churches.

"I don't know how I could ever settle down now," she said. "Every day is fresh and different, and brings some new inspiration. I love it."

This Illinois-born lady minister, now in her mid-30's, can milk a cow or shuck corn—and she also holds degrees from several universities. She's the first woman to be given such a job by her denomination since circuit riders made the rounds on horseback.

"It's even more important now," she said during a visit here. "There are so many more places that need and want guidance, encouragement and contact with the overall work of the churches."

Traveling alone in her specially built station wagon, its rear section an efficient storehouse for training materials and personal equipment, Miss Anderson so far has visited nearly 200 out-of-the-way churches.

"My car is my home," she said. "I'm equipped for everything—cooking, sleeping, even washing and ironing my clothes."

The car also is loaded with more than 1,000 pounds of books, phonograph records, movie film, literature, packed filing cabinets, a typewriter, dictaphone and other paraphernalia used in her teaching and counseling.

"The objective," she said, "is to provide the small rural churches with the inspiration for doing a better spiritual job, and to show them some of the tools for getting that job done more effectively."

She began her hamlet-hopping tour in August, 1953, in Douglas, Wyo. Since then, she has circulated through the back country of Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Northern California, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota, and parts of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, where she is touring now.

At each church stop, Miss Anderson goes into a busy whirl of lectures, interviews, conferences, instructing the congregation on how to set up various programs, on duties of deacons and trustees, on Sunday school teaching methods, on forming youth groups and men's and women's service units.

Usually, she spends only one or two days at each church. In Kansas, she has visited 15 churches.

MIGHTY HUNTER — RIO VISTA, Calif. (AP)—William A. Foster's bar has 250 wild animal heads on its walls. Foster started the collection 24 years ago and said he shot most of the animals himself. They include a big elephant's head.

MUSCLEMEN—British Tommies, on maneuvers at Salisbury Plains, nonchalantly hoist an enormous tank on their shoulders and move it to another part of battleground. Don't get excited—the tank is only an inflated rubber one, skillfully used to baffle the "enemy."

NORTONVILLE

NORTONVILLE — Mrs. Charles Reid of Detroit, Mich., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly.

Mrs. Milton Hooking of Jacksonville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oxley, underwent surgery last week at the Passavant hospital. Nancy Hooking has been staying with her grandparents while her mother is in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and Lucy took Mrs. Harriett Seymour on Sunday, Sept. 19, to Jacksonville. Mrs. Seymour attended the Open House at the Baptist Church and the Robinsons called on relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William Twiford of Riverside, Calif., called on Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clayton one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hicks and grandson and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Smith of Woodson called on Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly one afternoon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bradish of Texas were visitors recently of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wells quietly observed their 21st wedding anniversary Tuesday, Sept. 28.

Mrs. Charles Knapp and children spent the weekend with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Chaudoin.

Robert Whitlock was a patient at the Passavant hospital last week for a few days for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Oxley, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Oxley and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bolton and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bolton, Linda Kay and Larry drove Sept. 19 to Beardstown for a fish fry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and Lucy and Donald Witherbee attended the Freshman Vespers at Washington University at St. Louis Sunday and also visited their son, Gilmore, a student and relative, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dyer.

Dale Chaudoin and Jimmy Wells were among the group of Franklin high school boys going Saturday to the football game at Champaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton spent Sunday, Sept. 19, with her mother, Mrs. Julia Wilcox and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeSilva at Carlinville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Henry and Thomas Robson of Franklin were recently Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Seymour.

UPSTAIRS EXPANSION — WATERBERRY, Conn. (AP)—John W. Nolan petitioned the city board of aldermen to waive the building code to allow him to convert a second floor porch into a bedroom. He needed the extra room, he explained, for his recently born twins. The petition was granted.

Rockets Score 24-19 Win Over Virginia In Conference Action

The Routt Rockets sparked by the fine quarterbacking of Jim DeVore and the fine running of Doolin, Flynn and Fredericks scored in every quarter to defeat a highly touted Virginia Redbird team 24-19 in a PMBC Conference battle on the JHS field last night.

With less than two minutes to go it looked as if the Virginia team had tied the score and a chance to go ahead. However, a beautiful 73 yard run by Smith was called back on a clipping penalty and the Redbird TD didn't enter the record book.

Routt scored first in the opening minutes on a four yard smash by Reggie Doolin. The touchdown march started on the Rocket 44 yard line. Doolin started with a 15 yard run and shorter dashes by Fredericks and Flynn carried to the four before Doolin went over.

Rock Hill Begins Plans To Honor Dusty Rhodes

ROCK HILL, S. C. (AP)—With radio and television sets going full blast, baseball fans started plans Thursday for a big homecoming for Rock Hill's favorite citizen—James (Dusty) Rhodes.

"We'll make it the biggest day of all," yelled one fan after Rhodes had singled and hit his second homer of the World Series, blows that contributed mightily to the New York Giants' 3-1 second game triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Dusty is not a native of Rock Hill. Born in Mathews, Ala., he adopted this textile city of 25,000 after joining the Rock Hill Chiefs of the Tri-State League in 1930. Since then he's spent his winters here, working at a textile finishing mill.

Mayor J. Emmett Jerome Chamber of Commerce president Sam Breen and Jake Early, skipper of the Chiefs, will head the citizens committee for Dusty Rhodes Day. They say Dusty can name the date to suit his convenience.

Although he wasn't the most valuable pitcher on the Indians' staff this past year Bob Feller should have a shot at the Giants before the 1934 World Series is history. However in all probability the pitcher who has meant so much to the Cleveland baseball club the past 17 years will remain in the dugout throughout the series.

Before the series opened Manager Al Lopez said he hoped to give Bob a starting assignment. The only hitch was Feller would only get the chance to win his first series game if and when the Indians had the series edge on the Giants. The way the first two games have gone, this will never happen.

The Giants have a two game lead and the Indians will be forced to stick with their "big three". Even if Garcia wins today Cleveland will still be behind two games to one and will come back with Lemon in the fourth game. We can't blame Lopez for sticking with the three men who have such outstanding records. But it looks to us as if a pitcher with a 13-3 record should have that chance especially since it may well be his last one.

While we're in the second guessing mood let's talk about the hitting star of the series, Dusty Rhodes. Rhodes hasn't started either game but he has five RBIs and two home runs while batting 1.000. Manager Lew Durocher can't decide whether he wants Rhodes on the bench or in the lineup. We agree it's nice to have a man like him on the bench so you can use him when you want to but even Dusty isn't going to come through every time. Therefore why not have him in the lineup so he'll bat four or five times a game.

Pace Picks Up For Downstate Football Teams

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The pace quickens for many leading conference title aspirants in down state Illinois prep football activity Friday and Saturday.

The rugged Big Eight and Big 12 circuits, two of the last major loops to settle down to flag play, have heavy cards on tap, and important matches are slated in the Suburban and South Suburban leagues.

In nonconference bouts, Rock Island goes after its 24th consecutive win at Clinton, Iowa and East St. Louis seeks to duplicate that number in entertaining Bloom of Chicago Heights, both Friday.

East Rockford and Elgin, defending co-titlists in the Big Eight, open drives to repeat against East Aurora and Preppert, respectively. With two outside victories under their belts, the Aurorans figure to give a good account of themselves. Elgin's heavy scoring punch appears to give the Maroons an edge over Preppert.

In other Big Eight encounters Friday LaSalle-Peru and Joliet collide in a battle of preseason favorites while West Aurora invades West Rockford. LaSalle tries for a third triumph in as many starts.

In the Big 12, three games provide opening tests for five teams while the sixth, Decatur's formidable Reds, journey to Mattoon Friday in quest of a second loop decision.

Danville and Urbana, each with an unblemished two game chart, launch flag hostilities against each other. A third contest pairs Lincoln and Peoria Manual Saturday.

Champaign and Peoria Central, 1933 pennant sharers, engage outside foes. Woodruff of Peoria, successful in two outings to date, provides the opposition for Central's powerful Lions.

Evanton travels to Highland Park and New Trier of Winnetka goes to Morton of Cicero Saturday in a pair of Suburban loop features. The visiting teams are the only Suburban outfits still clinging to perfect marks.

In the South Suburban, Thornton of Harvey sends its defending champions against an unstoppable Argo bunch Friday that may spell trouble. Thornton dropped a one-point decision to East Rockford last week.

The Carlenville Cavaliers invade Jacksonville tonight for a 8:00 o'clock battle in a Central Conference game at the JHS athletic field.

This will be the third game of the season for the Crimsons who tied with Pittsfield and were defeated by Macomb. Coach Bob Kraushaar has shuffled his lineup in an attempt to find a winning combination. It is still doubtful if Kent Dawson will be in top form after missing most of this week's practices with an injured leg. His half-back spot may be filled by Ron Trier.

A change in the line resulted in the moving of Prather to a guard position and Woodward to tackle on offense. Other changes will take place when the Cavaliers are in possession of the pigskin.

Another local team, the twice victorious ISD Tigers, travel to Mt. Sterling. Coach Jim Spink's boys have not been scored on so far this season in their first two games. They beat Petersburg 31-0 and Oklahoma Deaf 46-0.

NEW YORK. (AP)—Maryland voted the country's best last season, will find out Friday night whether there's a chance of repeating.

The Terrapins have a Los Angeles date with UCLA, the West Coast power, and if they can slip by this one they may go all the way. The odds say UCLA, we say Maryland by 21-19.

Last week we hit 43 out of 52, including Iowa's upset of Michigan State, for an 827 percentage. Season's mark: 69-13 for 841.

Here goes for this weekend: Michigan over Army. The Cadets are too thin for heavy Big Ten opposition. 27-14.

Ohio State over California: Howland Cassidy hops along again. The Bears have great potential but bit off too much schedule. 20-7.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: It's SMU's first game and speedy Tech shouldn't be to be defeated by last week's loss. Minnesota over Pittsburgh. Murray Warmath has brought new speed and hitting power to the Gophers. Pitt is tough but tired.

Southern California over Northwestern: The Trojans have found their much-needed take charge guy in sophomore Jon Arnett.

Notre Dame over Purdue: The Irish haven't forgotten that the Boilermakers broke their winning

Fred Hutchinson Out As Detroit Manager

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Hutchinson, resigned Thursday as manager of the Detroit Tigers amid rumors he next would be seen in the uniform of the Baltimore Orioles.

Hutchinson's resignation had been anticipated since he announced he would settle for nothing less than a two-year contract as manager. The six-man board of directors, led by Tiger President Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, voted Thursday to offer Hutchinson the Tigers' usual one-year contract and Hutchinson immediately declined.

Briggs said the one-year contract proposal was Tiger policy and the board did not want to vary from it.

Some sources close to the Tigers said Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, manager of San Diego, in the Pacific Coast League, had not only been offered the job as Tiger manager but had indicated he would accept.

Hutchinson, at 35, the youngest manager in the major leagues,

World Series Notes

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Capsule report on world series game 2: Rain threatened all day and so did the Indians, but neither fell on the Giants.

In the tense ninth inning Vic Wertz, the guy they couldn't get out in the opener, was at bat with a 3 and 2 count on him and the tying runs on base. Vic fouled off three of Johnny Antonelli's hardest pitches before he flew out.

Giant Manager Leo Durocher called a special meeting before the second game to discuss how to pitch to Wertz, who hit safely four times in the opener and was robbed of a fifth hit by Willie Mays' amazing catch. The decision must have been "Don't give him anything good," because Vic walked twice and got only one hit.

Wertz, who almost finished the season in the minors instead of the World Series, commented thus on the meeting: "It makes me feel good that somebody finally is worrying about me. No one has in a long time."

Antonelli, who has a good fast ball, also showed he has fast legs on a crucial play in the fifth inning. Johnny beat George Strickland's throw to first on a slow grounder to Bobby Avila that had double play written all over it. Hank Thompson scored from third on the play, so the Giants had a 2-1 lead instead of a third out and a 1-1 tie. It could have been a different game if Antonelli had been a step slower.

The second game started at 1:04 p. m. and stopped seconds later when the ump's decision the center field exit gate was wide open.

Larry Doby's ailing shoulder bothered him a bit before the game and Al Smith played with an ankle all taped up. Both went all the way, but the shoulder might help to explain Doby's three strikeouts.

Andrew Carnegie, American industrialist, donated the finances for the Peace Palace in The Hague.

Dusty Rhodes --- Baseball's Newest 'Pinup Boy'

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's newest glamor figure—the "pinup boy" of television millions—is a red-faced, raw-boned swinger from the Alabama farm country who loves to fish and sweat a baseball.

He is 27-year-old Jim (Dusty) Rhodes, who so far is Mr. World Series of 1934.

"I ain't much of a fielder and I got a pretty lousy arm but I sure love to take a whack at that ball," the 27-year-old pinch-hit sensation of the New York Giants said Thursday.

It was Rhodes' 10th inning home run which won the opening game at the Polo Grounds Wednesday 5-2 and it was another home run and a pinch-hit single which gave the Giants their second in a row over Cleveland Thursday 3-1.

Rhodes is a fantastic character whose clutch hitting pulled out game after game for the Giants during the regular season.

He is hitting 1.000 in the series—three hits for three—but still isn't good enough to drag down a regular spot in manager Leo Durocher's lineup.

"I like to have Rhodes handy where I can call on him when things get tough," Leo says.

Dusty, more at home in overalls than in a baseball uniform, was born in Little Mathews, Ala., 13 miles south of Montgomery. His present residence is listed as Deatsville, Ala., although he spends his summers at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and winters at Rock Hill, S. C., where he has held an off-season job in a textile mill for six years.

But with all the series cash coming in this year, Dusty says he doubts he'll go to work over the winter.

"I think I'd just like to fish," he says.

His parents are dead and his relatives are scattered throughout the South.

He has two boys—Jim (Dusty) Rhodes Jr., 6 and Romney, 4.

Dusty seemed a bit buoyed over all the attention given him in the dressing room.

"This wasn't nothing beside of yesterday," he said, and who cares about grammar as long as Dusty keeps his big arms loose and his wing in the groove.

North Jacksonville pushed across a run in the eighth inning to nip Franklin 5-4 Wednesday in a game played at North Jacksonville.

Cubs Trade Klippstein

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Thursday sent Harry Perkowski, a left handed pitcher, and outfielder first baseman Jim Bolger to the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Johnny Klippstein and Jim Willis. The Cubs also will purchase Ted Tappe from Tulsa of the Texas League.

Lefty Allows 8 Hits, Rhodes Homers Again To Nip Indians 3-1

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Clutch-hitting Dusty Rhodes smashed a pinch-hit single and another home run Thursday and young Johnny Antonelli hurled a gritty eight-hitter to whip the Cleveland Indians 3-1 and give the New York Giants a 2-0 lead in the World Series.

Rhodes continued his spectacular pinch hitting with the fifth-inning single that tied the score and smashed a solid home run off the facade of the upper right field stands in the seventh to give the young Giant southpaw a more comfortable working margin. His homer was a genuine blow, in sharp contrast to the pinch pop fly that won the opener Wednesday in the 10th inning.

Antonelli, the 21-game winner the Giants snared from Milwaukee in a deal for Bobby Thomson last winter, skirted several shaky situations to leave 13 Cleveland men on base. That made it 26 left in two futile games for the American League champs who set a league record with 111 victories while dethroning the New York Yankees.

The slick lefty from Rochester, N.Y., walked six and struck out nine. More important, he came through in the clutch. He struggled up the road with Indians to left and right of him all the way.

Even in the ninth he was in trouble. Al Smith, whose first-inning home run on Antonelli's first pitch gave Cleveland its only score, opened the ninth with a single off John's glove. Bobby Avila, the league batting champ, followed with a single to left.

While Hoyt Wilhelm heated up in the bullpen, Antonelli settled down to strike out an angry Larry Doby, make Rudy Regalado force Avila at second and then retiring troublesome Vic Wertz on a long fly to Rhodes in deep left to end the game.

Now the teams switch to Cleveland where Friday's third game will be played, starting at noon CST. Mike Garcia (19-8), a right-hander, will try to get Cleveland into the win column while Ruben Gomez (17-9), Puerto Rican right-hander, is the Giant choice.

Rhodes finally got a chance to stay in a ball game when Manager Leo Durocher let his pinch-hitting prize take over in left field after he batted for Monte Irvin in the fifth.

Early Wynn, chunky Indian pitcher, had pitched a tremendous game in the first four innings, blowing down the Giants 12-3. None of the first 12 batsmen reached base.

Willie Mays, once again struggling a hitless day, took the count to 3-1 and then walked, leading off the fifth. Before Wynn got used to seeing a man on base, he had even more company. Hank Thompson drilled a hard single to right for the first Giant hit.

Monte Irvin was scheduled to be the next batter but Durocher needed no prompting. One look down the bench and it was Dusty striding from the dugout with a load of bats.

The 27-year-old outfielder from Deatsville, Ala., rose to the occasion for the second straight day. He fouled off Wynn's first pitch, looked at a ball and fouled off two more before he dunked a soft Texas League single into short center.

Doby was playing deep for this home run threat and got a slow break on the ball. He gave it a good hustling try but couldn't make the catch, Mays scoring from second as Doby threw to third in a vain try for Thompson. Before things settled down, Rhodes was on second base.

With men on second and third and none out, Wynn was deep in trouble. He struck out Dave Williams and walked Wes Westrum on four straight pitches.

Antonelli hit a roller toward second baseman Avila that looked like a double play ball. It wasn't quite hard enough and Avila was able to get only catcher Wes Westrum home with the tie-breaking run.

Actually Rhodes' home run, the fourth and final hit off Wynn in his seven-inning stay, wasn't needed. But it looked mighty handy to Antonelli and Durocher in the ninth inning Indian uprising.

With this second straight under their belt, the Giants are in a terrific position to win their first Series since 1903. In all Series history, only one club ever has lost the first two games and then bounced back to win. The Giants were the club. They dropped the first two to the New York Yankees in 1921 and bounced back to grab the championship, 5-3. That was in the days of the best-of-nine series before they shifted to seven games.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads and utilities pulled the bond market lower Thursday as volume increased. U. S. government securities were steady.

"Big Board" volume climbed to $2,934,000 par value from $2,630,000 Wednesday as corporate issues drifted lower. Industrials were irregular and utilities narrowly lower. But nearly all carriers lost ground. Most treasury bonds were unchanged in quiet over the counter trading.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined Thursday for the second straight time in a moderate manner.

Selling was marked in the steel and motor. Railroads were down, but the fall was not so pronounced as Tuesday.

The market started out mixed but soon ran into difficulties. Motors did well for a time as did the oils, but soon fell back from their best or moved over to the losing side of the list.

Greatest unsettling factor in Thursday's market was the decision of the Department of Justice in Washington to oppose the merger of Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Youngstown was hardest hit off 2 1/2 at 52 1/2, only 1/4 above its low. Bethlehem lost 1 1/4 at 77 1/4, its low for the day.

Other steels were off on the day as well.

Also lower with the motors and steels were the rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, utilities, coppers, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads and some airlines.

Losses at the most went to between one and three points while gains extended to between one and two.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 70 cents, the same amount as Tuesday, and closed at $135.60.

The industrial component of the average was down 90 cents, rails lost 40 cents, and utilities were off 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 1,840,000 shares, 30,000 shares more than were traded Tuesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed and leaning lower. Volume came to 640,000 shares as compared with 630,000 shares traded Tuesday.

UNSETTLED WEATHER FIRMS GRAIN MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans led the grain market higher on the Board of Trade Thursday, aided by more unsettled weather in the Midwest.

Soybeans and rye were firm from the start. Other cereals, however, dragged. In the last 15 minutes buying came into the major grains, particularly wheat, and they went to their best prices of the day. Trading, dead dull most of the session, expanded on this rally.

Wheat closed 1 1/2-1 3/4 higher, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye 1/2-1/2 higher, soybeans 4 1/2-5 1/4 higher and lard 2 cents lower to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The unsettled weather in the Midwest was delaying harvesting of soybeans. As a result, the market was free from hedging pressure. Cash bean receipts at Chicago totaled only 71 cars.

Soybeans were also helped by sale of 750,000 bushels to Formosa, firmness in both cash bean meal and oil and a Census Bureau report showing stocks at mills on Aug. 31 totaled 4,894,000 bushels compared with 7,612,000 a year ago.

Bean oil stocks also were down from a year ago, although meal supplies were higher. Meal stocks totaled 150,705 tons against 102,259 a year earlier. Oil stocks totaled 117,683,000 pounds against 161,242,000 a year earlier.

In the late rally wheat showed more life than it has displayed at any time so far this week. There was a little bit buying on this rally and pit observers said there also appeared to be quite a bit of short covering.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—It was the second down and two to go for the Giants Thursday as for the second straight day they beat the Cleveland Indians in a game which fairly dripped with spine-chilling drama until the final out.

This second World Series game's waning moments packed even more tension than Wednesday's stirring finish, in that it was prolonged whereas Dusty Rhodes' climactic home run in the first game came with a stunning impact.

It was a movie-script duel of brawn and wit between Johnny Antonelli, a pitcher of stern stuff under pressure, and burly Vic Wertz, who Wednesday single-handedly almost blasted the Giants out of their own park.

He was still a big man Thursday, and when he came up in the ninth inning with two out and teammates parked hopefully on first and third the stands buzzed with static electricity.

Antonelli had that two-run lead to protect, and Wertz was the man who with one swing of his bat could make it vanish.

Neither man would give an inch. When Antonelli fiddled with the ball and stalled, Wertz would retreat from the box. When Wertz retreated, Antonelli fiddled some more. The count reached 3 and 2. Then a foul. Then another, followed by a solid blast to left center. Dusty Rhodes pulled it in and you almost could hear the tension snap.

Those final moments seemed to dwarf other dramatic moments in another fine series ball game, and there were other dramatic moments in quantity.

You almost forgot Al Smith's lofty home run on the first pitch of the game, and Antonelli's bitter struggle to survive that first inning.

You almost forgot the astonishing Rhodes' blooming, run-scoring hit to center, and how this same Rhodes slugged a home run ball high off the right field stands in the seventh.

You almost forgot that Willie Mays fanned on three pitches in the sixth and that Al Dark and Hank Thompson made stops that were slightly sensational.

Tomorrow is another day, but nothing much can happen in Cleveland that hasn't already happened in this 1954 World Series.

Cong. Peter Mack Will Be Ashland Speaker Tuesday

ASHLAND—The Ashland community club dinner to be held at the high school at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 4, will be highlighted by a talk to be given by Congressman Peter F. Mack Jr. of Carlinville. The banquet will be served by the ladies of the Baptist church.

Congressman Mack has identified himself over a period of years by his interest in young people and his desire for lasting world peace. Each year he sponsors an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C. for 100 underprivileged and handicapped grade school youngsters, representing each of the 10 counties in the Twenty-First Congressional District of Illinois.

Mr. Mack has made seven trips outside of this country and has visited 48 countries which ably qualifies him as one of the outstanding authorities on foreign affairs.

Richard Hager of Ashland recently returned from Korea will present several vocal selections.

Explorer Scout Leaders To Plan Future Activity

On Thursday, September 30th, 7:30 p.m. at the Scout Cabin on Lake Jacksonville representatives of the Honest Abe District Explorer post and crews within their Troops will meet for a fall planning conference.

Each Unit or Crew has been asked to send four Explorers and one adult leader to advise on activities to be scheduled. This is an important part of the Explorer program, inasmuch as the young men plan their own social, service, outdoor, and vocational activities that are to take place for the next Quarter. Exploring is that part of the Scout Program which appeals to the young man of high school age (past 14th birthday).

When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the kidneys filter out wastes and filter out waste.
